NATO Says Foreign Ministers Will Meet Oct. 15 On Problem

LONDON, Sept. 17 (A) - The United States and Britain agreed tonight on quick action to bring West Germany into the Atlantic alliance on a basis of full equality. France has promised support, in principle at least, for this move. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden wound up a Office by issuing a call for a speedy conference to consider how best to associate the West Germans with the 14-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Dulles then took off for Washington.

Will Meet Oct. 15 NATO headquarters in Paris promptly announced foreign ministers of the member countries would problem. The exact date and place of the talks have not yet been agreed on, but Paris has been frequently mentioned as the most likely spot.

Diplomatic sources said the British-American agreement became possible with Eden's disclosure of the French conditional promise to go along on Germany's entry into the Western alliance.

These sources said French Premier Pierre Mendes-France assured Eden yesterday he would accept the principle of German rearmament within NATO provided:

LONDON, Sept. 17 (A) - The United States and Britain agreed tonight on quick action to bring West Germany into the Atlantic alliance on a basis of full equality. France has promised support, in principle at least, for this move. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden wound up a 31/2-hour session at the Foreign Office by issuing a call for a speedy conference to consider how best to associate the West Germans with the 14-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Dulles

NATO headquarters in Paris promptly announced foreign ministers of the member countries would meet about Oct. 15 to take up the problem. The exact date and place of the talks have not yet been agreed on, but Paris has been frequently mentioned as the most

A Fair Measure Of Due Credit

It is most difficult when giving credit for accomplishments to direct that credit to the proper place. All too often some people try to force themselves into the spotlight and take credit for the work done by others. Sometimes persons deserving a "well done" and "thank you" are overlooked when the time comes for accolades.

There can be no question, though, as to who should receive the thanks of our community and the bulk of the credit for the decision of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company to locate its giant new plant

Those two men are Senator J. Glenn Beall and Albert H. Hargreaves, director of industrial promotion for the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

This is not to say that credit is not due others; it is. No such achievement could have been possible without the community-wide cooperation of which President Higgins spoke here Thursday night, nor the all-out effort and spirit of unity of our civic and public leaders.

President Higgins voiced special praise for Senator Beall when he spoke at the Chamber of Commerce-sponsored dinner in honor of Pittsburgh Plate officials.

"He more than anyone else was responsible for making it possible for us to locate in Cumberland this year," said Mr. Higgins as he spoke glowingly of Senator Beall's success in obtaining certification for the Cumberland plant from the Office of Defense Mobilization.

High officials of the Pittsburgh company pointed privately to Hargreaves as the man who, along with Senator Beall, did more than anyone else to bring the huge new plant to Cumberland.

They said they recognized that Hargreaves is a "professional," a man paid to do a job but who in producing results went far beyond "the call of duty" to convince the Pittsburgh officials that Cumberland is the best site in the land for their new plant.

Hargreaves, they said, always had the answer to their questions while other communities under consideration fell short. At times, said these high officials of Pittsburgh Plate, Hargreaves "on nerve and nerve alone" carried the ball for Cumberland until the decision to locate here was made.

We feel certain that Hargreaves will be happy to read these words of praise from the Pittsburgh Plate officials with whom he negotiated and to know how highly they regard him. We know he felt Cumberland's gratitude when he was greeted with a great ovation as he was introduced at Thursday night's

It is refreshing to think how fortunate Cumberland is in having such capable and qualified men as Senator Beall and Albert Hargreaves working in its behalf, and then to realize that they symbolize to a great extent the many, many others who are trying just as earnestly and sincerely to guide Cumberland to a progressive and prosperous future. Our hat is off to them.

The Watkins Court

Is the Senate going to appoint a permanent committee to investigate Joe McCarthy? The senator apparently thinks so and he assumes that Senator Flanders intends to persist in his loathing for him assisted by the National Committee for an Effective Congress.

The Watkins Committee has had its day and has produced nothing that can be called a judicial atmosphere. or a congressional hearing that is similar to a court of law, unless it be the household courtroom of a justice of the peace where the testimony is given lightly and in a hurry, so the aforesaid justice can go about his private business. Or maybe, it was intended to be like some of the magistrates courts of my childhood where the verdict was arranged before the evidence was in.

What verdict can the Watkins Committee give about Joe McCarthy? In effect, he was never permitted to put in a complete defense. Maybe his defense for using violent language was no defense at all, but he was never able to say it as he and his counsel chose to say it. Perhaps the Watkins Committee feared that if Joe McCarthy were permitted to put up a fight for himself, their ears would suffer the violence of his

I have read millions of words of congressional hearings, particularly those before the McCarthy Committee, but I never came across incidents where Joe gavelled down a lawyer for a spy or a Communist and told the lawyer that neither he nor his client could state their case. True, Joe has thrown some witnesses out of the hearing room, but that was because the witness was clearly contemptuous of the United States and its Congress, and usually it came after the witness had bawled out, as vituperatively as he could, the chairman of the McCarthy Committee, namely, the redoubtable Joe himself.

If the Watkins Committee decides that McCarthy should be censured or not censured, or if it makes no decision but leaves it to the Senate, the conduct of the trial has been such that large segments of the people will be dissatisfied. For instance, the Zwicker testimony was wholly unsatisfactory. General Zwicker could, at the original McCarthy hearings, have testified that he had no alternative but not to testify under his orders. Why was Zwicker so obscure in what he had to say at that time, yet not in his private conversation with James Juliana? Obviously there was a clash of personalities in which the general does not come off an angel in uniform nor the senator as the devil incarnate. And is this the first senatorial hearing at which a general has clashed with a senator and harsh

international furor about rearming Germany, Defense Secretary Wilson has just signed a secret policy order stalling U. S. arms shipments to Germany for 12 to 18 months after Secretary of State Dulles gives him the go-ahead

A lot of well-laid Pentagon plans have been upset by this directive. For three years the Pentagon has been stockpiling guns, tanks and jeeps for the proposed new German army. Valued at nearly half a billion dollars, these arms would help create a 12-division 400,000-man army, an 80,000-man air force, and a 20,000---- coastal

On September 3, Gen. George C. Stewart, military aid director, announced that these arms would be given to Germany immediately after the agreements were signed. Inside a week, he told the press, trucks, jeeps, and military hardborrowed from General Gruenther's U. S. forces in Europe would roll across the Rhine.

Now this is all reversed. And the amazing thing is that it was reversed under pressure from the Germans themselves. The Pentagon will withhold the arms shipments until the Germans have trained men to use the arms.

What the Germans feared was that by rushing the hardware across the Rhine prior to training a German army, the United States would be inviting Russian aggression. Also there is a strong German minority opposed to rearmament, and the United States cannot afford to have it claim that Chancellor Adenauer is being pres-

Hush-Hush On Joe

Some of Joe McCarthy's activities are now getting the hush-hush treatment from the press. It's a decided contrast to what he used

On August 28, for instance, Joe attended a big $100-a-plate Republican dinner in San Diego which netted $80,000. Though the dinner was amply covered by the San Diego papers, most other papers in California and elsewhere ignored it. The press associations sent out brief dispatches, but not much got into print.

ever, because it has been stated at Republican headquarters that McCarthy would campaign only in states where requested. It has also been stated unofficially by friends of the President that the White House didn't want him to campaign at all.

Obviously he must have got clearance from Ike's Senate leader, Bill Knowland of California, to attend such an important political dinner, and it's interesting that McCarthy mentioned Knowland warmly but ignored the other Republican Senator from California, Tom Kuchel.

Maine Autopsy

Some of Ike's own personal advisers, usually more hard-boiled than certaain Pollyannas around the Republican National Commitlook at the political horizon as a result of the Maine election, and

In the first place they admit that, despite genial Chairman Len

Hall's optimistic statement, the Maine defeat resulted from much more than a local internal feud.

Popular Mrs. Smith's margins were the lowest in her career, while Congressman Bobby Hale, whose uncle was senator before him, and who bears a name as old as New England, squeaked through by only a hairs-breadth. Mrs. Smith reported privately that it was the toughest race she ever

On top of this, what worries Ikeadvisers are reports from other areas. Usually rock-ribbed South Dakota has every indication of being up in arms over the farm legislation. The office of Senator Case of South Dakota has passed on the word that his colleague. Senator Mundt, is headed for the stiffest race of his career. Even Nebraska, which hasn't elected a Democratic senator for years, is experiencing some unrest.

From Idaho, the realists send back word that Glenn Taylor, the cowboy Democrat who once before strummed his way into the Senate. is giving GOP Senator Dworshak the fight of his life and has a real chance of winning, unless a lot of money is poured into Idaho in

Reports from Kansas also indicate that the farmers, hitherto stanchly Republican, are going to give Senator Andy Schoeppel a bad time. He's being opposed by ex-Sen. George McGill, who, ironically, was the father of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, back in 1934, which first initiated the principle of farm price supports so

It's believed the trend can be stopped. what they see doesn't make them but it will take a terrific fundraising drive to do it.

Stay-At-Home Vote Poses Problem For Republicans

WASHINGTON-Maine's election figures show that, whereas the total vote for members of Congress this year was approximately the same as two years ago, the stay-athome vote is still much more of a Republican than a Democratic problem in America.

Only 64.2 of the entire population of the United States above 21 years of age voted in the presidential election two years ago, which means that for the nation as a whole there are more than 25,000,-000 persons eligible to vote who didn't do so. This huge stay-athome vote can play a vital part in the outcome of the congressional elections in November.

It is even more perplexing that millions of persons who vote for president do not vote for members cf Congress. Thus there were 83,000 Republican votes in Maine for Dwight Eisenhower which were not cast this time for Senator Margaret Chase Smith, who has just been reelected and who has been one of the favorite Eisenhower Republicans in Congress—a "liberal" in the modern sense and a severe critic of Senator McCarthy. Democrats Made Inroads

Mrs. Smith indeed got 16,000 fewer Republican votes than she won in 1948, yet the Democratic nominee for senator increased the Democratic vote from 64,000 in 1948 to 102,000 in 1954. The defeated Democratic nominee thus gained 38,000 votes over 1948 as his opponent was losing 16,000 Republican votes. In fact, the Democratic vote of 102,000 for senator this time was only 17,000 behind the Stevenson vote of 119,000 in 1952. The closing of this gap shows that the Democrats made substantial inroads into the presidential voters who didn't vote for members of Congress in 1952, while the Republicans in Maine have scarcely made a dent in the group of Republicans who voted for Ike but didn't vote for a senator two years ago.

This is a task for organization at the precinct level. It will do no good for the Republican workers, for example, to spend too much time trying to convert those farmers who are rebellious this year. They might better concentrate on those farmers whose incomes are good but who haven't been voting for members of Congress at all. Similarly, for every unemployed citizen who votes in protest, the sible for some of the economic Republicans have to get at least two Republican stay-at-homes of

It is not the vote that switches back and forth, therefore, which decides elections in close states. It's the vote of those who could offset the effect of the switching that's important. They alone can overcome the protest, or negative,

Many Examples

There have been many classic examples of this doctrine. In Ohio in 1948 the state went to Truman by a margin of only 7,000 votes, yet there were 120,000 persons who didn't vote for President at all but who did vote to elect a Democratic governor of a conservative type. They actually went to the polls but, doesn't vote. So the stay-at-home 1952 who have jobs and are satis- like many of the stay-at-homes, citizen, by his indifference, may fied with the administration's they didn't like either Dewey or much difference between thempresumably the complaint was that they both leaned toward the left-

In 1950, however, by dint of hard work and through organized effort in every precinct of the state, the Republican party re-elected Senater Taft by a 431,000 majority. In 1952. Senator Bricker got 243,000 more Republican votes than Taft had two years before. Likewise, the Democratic nominee for the Senate, Mike Di Salle, polled 110,-000 more votes for his ticket in the 1952 election than either Truman or Dewey got in 1948. Incidentally, there was no perceptible increase in the number eligible to vote in Ohio, as between 1948 and 1950 and 1952. But, while only 55 per cent of the eligible voters went to the polls in the 1948 presidential election in Ohio. 62.4 per cent voted in the 1952 presidential election.

So the stay-at-homes are the key to the coming congressional election and the party which has thousands and thousands of precinct workers to get out the voter who agrees with their party record and likes their candidates, can win the election despite the customary switching of those voters who do go to the polls regularly.

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Bladder inflammation (cystitis) is not as common at it was in the past. The widespread usage of penicillin and other antibiotics in the treatment of colds and other infections is responsible. These products subdue the micro-organisms long before they have a chance to settle in the bladder or its neighboring organs. Ear and mastoid infections also are less prevalent for the same reason.

"He more than anyone else was responsible for making it possible for us to locate in Cumberland this year." said Mr. Higgins as he spoke glowingly of Senator Beall's success in obtaining certification for the Cumberland plant from the Office of Defense

High officials of the Pittsburgh company pointed privately to Hargreaves as the man who, along with Senator Beall, did more than anyone else to bring the huge new plant to Cumberland.

They said they recognized that Hargreaves is a "professional," a man paid to do a job but who in producing results went far beyond "the call of duty" to convince the Pittsburgh officials that Cumberland is the best site in the land for their new plant.

Hargreaves, they said, always had the answer to their questions while other communities under consideration fell short. At times, said these high officials of Pittsburgh Plate, Hargreaves "on nerve and nerve alone" carried the ball for Cumberland until the decision to locate here was made.

We feel certain that Hargreaves will be happy to read these words of praise from the Pittsburgh Plate officials with whom he negotiated and to know how highly they regard him. We know he felt Cumberland's gratitude when he was greeted with a great ovation as he was introduced at Thursday night's

It is refreshing to think how fortunate Cumberland is in having such capable and qualified men as Senator Beall and Albert Hargreaves working in its behalf, and then to realize that they symbolize to a great extent the many, many others who are trying just as earnestly and sincerely to guide Cumberland to a progressive and prosperous future. ## The Watkins Court

Is the Senate going to appoint a permanent committee to investigate Joe McCarthy? The senator apparently thinks so and he assumes that Senator Flanders intends to persist in his loathing for him assisted by the National Committee for an Effective Congress.

The Watkins Committee has had its day and has produced nothing that can be called a judicial atmosphere. or a congressional hearing that is similar to a court of law, unless it be the household courtroom of a justice of the peace where the testimony is given lightly and in a hurry, so the aforesaid justice can go about his private business. Or maybe, it was intended to be like some of the magistrates courts of my childhood where the verdict was arranged before the evidence was in.

What verdict can the Watkins Committee give about Joe McCarthy? In effect, he was never permitted to put in a complete defense. Maybe his defense for using violent language was no defense at all, but he was never able to say it as he and his counsel chose to say it. Perhaps the Watkins Committee feared that if Joe McCarthy were permitted to put up a fight for himself, their ears would suffer the violence of his

I have read millions of words of congressional hearings, particularly those before the McCarthy Committee, but I never came across incidents where Joe gavelled down a lawyer for a spy or a Communist and told the lawyer that neither he nor his client could state their case. True. Joe has thrown some witnesses out of the hearing room, but that was because the witness was clearly contemptuous of the United States and its Congress, and usually it came after the witness had bawled out, as vituperatively as he could, the chairman of the McCarthy Committee, namely, the redoubtable Joe himself.

If the Watkins Committee decides that McCarthy should be censured or not censured, or if it makes no decision but leaves it to the Senate, the conduct of the trial has been such that large segments of the people will be dissatisfied. For instance, the Zwicker testimony was wholly unsatisfactory. General Zwicker could, at the original McCarthy hearings, have testified that he had no alternative but not to testify under his orders. Why was Zwicker so obscure in what he had to say at that time, yet not in his private conversation with James Juliana? Obviously there was a clash of personalities in which the general does not come off an angel in uniform nor the senator as the devil incarnate. And is this the first senatorial hearing at which a general has clashed with a senator and harsh

And so, we shall await the next investigation of Senator Joe McCarthy.

U. S. Shipment Of Arms To Germany Is Delayed At Germany's Request

international furor about rearming Germany, Defense Secretary Wilson has just signed a secret policy order stalling U. S. arms shipments to Germany for 12 to 18 months after Secretary of State Dulles gives him the go-ahead

A lot of well-laid Pentagon plans have been upset by this directive. For three years the Pentagon has been stockpiling guns, tanks and jeeps for the proposed new German army. Valued at nearly half a billion dollars, these arms would help create a 12-division 400,000-man army, an 80,000-man air force, and a 20,000---- coastal

On September 3, Gen. George C. Stewart, military aid director, announced that these arms would be given to Germany immediately after the agreements were signed. Inside a week, he told the press, trucks, jeeps, and military hardware borrowed from General Gruenther's U. S. forces in Europe would roll across the Rhine.

Now this is all reversed. And the amazing thing is that it was reversed under pressure from the Germans themselves. The Pentagon will withhold the arms shipments until the Germans have trained men to use the arms.

What the Germans feared was that by rushing the hardware across the Rhine prior to training a German army, the United States would be inviting Russian aggression. Also there is a strong German minority opposed to rearmament, and the United States cannot afford to have it claim that Chancellor Adenauer is being pres-

Hush-Hush On Joe

Some of Joe McCarthy's activities are now getting the hush-hush treatment from the press. It's a decided contrast to what he used

On August 28, for instance, Joe attended a big $100-a-plate Republican dinner in San Diego which netted $80,000. Though the dinner was amply covered by the San Diego papers, most other papers in California and elsewhere ignored it. The press associations sent out brief dispatches, but not much got into print.

The dinner was significant, however, because it has been stated at Republican headqua ters that McCarthy would campaign only in states where requested. It has also been stated unofficially by friends of the President that the White House didn't want him to campaign at all.

Obviously he must have got clearance from Ike's Senate leader, Bill Knowland of California, to attend such an important political dinner, and it's interesting that McCarthy mentioned Knowland warmly but ignored the other Republican Senator from California, Tom Kuchel

On top of this, what worries Ikeadvisers are reports from other areas. Usually rock-ribbed South Dakota has every indication of being up in arms over the farm legislation. The office of Senator Case of South Dakota has passed on the word that his colleague, Senator Mundt, is headed for the stiffest race of his career. Even Nebraska, which hasn't elected a Democratic senator for years, is experiencing some unrest.

From Idaho, the realists send back word that Glenn Taylor, the cowboy Democrat who once before strummed his way into the Senate, is giving GOP Senator Dworshak the fight of his life and has a real chance of winning, unless a lot of money is poured into Idaho in

Reports from Kansas also indicate that the farmers, hitherto stanchly Republican, are going to give Senator Andy Schoeppel a bad time. He's being opposed by ex-Sen. George McGill, who, ironically, was the father of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, back in 1934, which first initiated the principle of farm price supports so hotly debated of late.

As a result of all this, the old Citizens Committee for Eisenhower, which did such a good money-raising jub during the presidential campaign and which has always functioned separately from the Republican National Committee, is getting into high gear. It's believed the trend can be stopped, but it will take a terrific fundraising drive to do it.

Widespread Use Of Antibiotics Helps Reduce Cystitis

Bladder inflammation (cystitis) is not as common at it was in the past. The widespread usage of penicillin and other antibiotics in the treatment of colds and other infections is responsible. These products subdue the micro-organisms long before they have a chance to settle in the bladder or its neighboring organs. Ear and mastoid infections also are less prevalent for the same reason.

Way back in 1811, relates Bernard Weatherill, a wager of a thousand guineas was posted that a coat could not be made and worn by sundown from wool sheared from the sheep at sunup of the same day. Sir John Throckmorton accepted the challenge and had his shepherd shear two sheep at 5 a. m., June 25, 1811. He then took the wool to the Greenham Mills near Newbury, Berkshire, where i, was washed and spun, the yarn spooled, warped, loomed and woven. The cloth was then burred. milled, rowed, dyed, dried, sheared and pressed, after which it was cut into a coat by James White, a Newbury tailor. The amount of sugar in the blood increases after eating and the level begins to decline within an hour or two, as the sugar is utilized by the liver and other tissues. Yesterday's Cryptoquote: DO LOVELY THINGS, NOT DREAM THEM, ALL DAY LONG - KINGSLEY. Distributed by King Features Syndicate

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, 'X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear daughter and sister. Zorka Krnaya, who passed away 10 years ago, Sept. 18, 1944. Since you went first and left us to re-One thing we would have you do Walk slowly down the beautiful path For someday we will follow you. We want to know each step you took,

We want to know each step you took, So that we may do the same. For someday down the lonely road You'll hear us call your name. No one knows how much we miss you No one knows the bitter pain We have suffered, since we lost you Life has never been the same. In our hearts your memory lingers, Sweetly tender, fond and true; There is not a day dear sister and daughter. daughter. That we do not think of you. Sadly missed by her father, m

In loving memory of my dear father In loving memory of my dear lather George Kreitzburg, who passed away years ago today. September 18, 1947. In my heart your memory lingers, Always tender, fond and true. There is not a day dear father, I do not think of you.

Peaceful be thy rest dear father, It is sweet to breathe thy name,

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear daughte and sister. Zorka Krnaya, who passed away 10 years ago. Sept. 18, 1944. Since you went first and left us to re-One thing we would have you do; Walk slowly down the beautiful path For someday we will follow you. We want to know each step you took, We want to know each step you took, So that we may do the same. For someday down the lonely road You'll hear us call your name. No one knows how much we miss you No one knows the bitter pain We have suffered, since we lost you Life has never been the same.

There is not a day dear sister and daughter. That we do not think of you Sadly missed by her father, mother brother and sister. In loving memory of my dear father, George Kreitzburg, who passed away 7 years ago today, September 18, 1947.

n our hearts your memory lingers, sweetly tender, fond and true;

years ago today, September 18, 1947.
In my heart your memory lingers,
Always tender, fond and true.
There is not a day dear father,
I do not think of you.
Peaceful be thy rest dear father,
It is sweet to breathe thy name,
In life I loved you dearly,
In death I do the same.
Sadly missed by his Daughter.

either the suit or No Trumps indicated they had not very much in the suit and therefore his partner had something. East's bid of 5-Hearts over that, following West's pass, which sounded much like a forcing pass, was because South's action made it seem he was very anxious to play the hand.

North-South pairs scored heavily. Against the 5-Hearts doubled 800 points were scored for a threetrick set. This seemed like a winning score until it was learned the other South made his 4-Spades redoubled, getting 480 for tricks, 500 for vulnerable duplicate game bonus and 50 for making the contract-1030. . . .

Centre St. Boy Seriously Hurt In Mishap Here

Pinned Between Truck And Tree

An eight-year-old school boy was in "serious" condition last night at Sacred Heart Hospital, where he was admitted following an unusual accident in 200 - block North Mechanic Street near the B&O viaduct.

Attaches last night said Roy J. Wickard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Wickard, 300 North Centre Street, was semi-conscious and had sustained a deep laceration of his back and right arm near the elbow.

He also apparently suffered internal injuries. X-rays will be taken to determine the extent of his injuries, attaches reported.

Details Puzzling

The manner in which the accident occurred is rather puzzling to police. Wickard, a pupil at St. Patrick's Catholic School was reported on his way home when the accident occurred about 3:10 p. m.

Witnesses told police they saw the Wickard boy lying under a two and a half ton pickup truck parked in 200-block North Mechanic Street. They said the boy managed to climb out from beneath the truck and walked toward his home, apparently not realizing he was hurt so seriously An ambulance was called and the boy taken to the hospital from his home. The truck was owned by Glen Whorton, of Oldtown section, who said he had parked his truck and was in the area on business, Police surmise that another boy

Centre St. Boy Seriously Hurt In Mishap Here

Pinned Between Truck And Tree

An eight-year-old school boy was in "serious" condition last night at Sacred Heart Hospital, where he was admitted following an unusual accident in 200 - block North Mechanic Street near the B&O viaduct.

Attaches last night said Roy J. Wickard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Wickard, 300 North Centre Street, was semi-conscious and had sustained a deep laceration of his back and right arm

He also apparently suffered internal injuries. X-rays will be taken to determine the extent of his injuries, attaches reported.

Details Puzzling

The manner in which the accident occurred is rather puzzling to police. Wickard, a pupil at St. Patrick's Catholic School was reccident occurred about 3:10 p. m.

Witnesses told police they saw he Wickard boy lying under a two and a half ton pickup truck parked in 200-block North Mechanic Street. climb out from beneath the truck and walked toward his home, apparently not realizing he was hurt

An ambulance was called and the boy taken to the hospital from who said he had parked his truck police said

Police surmise that another boy apparently started the motor of the feet pinning Wickard between the truck and a nearby tree

Wickard then apparently fell beneath the truck from a space from the running board to the bed of the truck. Blood stains were found on the truck bed and near the tree
